

The CTFC open a vacancy for a predoctoral fellow on forest mechanization and harvesting for the Bioeconomy and governance programme

The programme develops, among others, activities in technology transfer and applied research in the field of wood valorisation; renewable energy through biomass; innovation in forestry and forest operations.

Key functions:

- Management of a European project on demonstration of harvesting by cable crane and related drawing up plan.
- Management of a demonstrative project on harvesting by cable crane.
- Management of a project of territorial competitiveness and specialization on forest mechanization and harvesting.
- Management of two actions related to forest mechanization.
- Enhancement relationship with forest timber and biomass industries.
- Drawing up of studies and technical reports
- Field work
- Performs any other relevant duties as needed.

Minimum requirements:

- A degree in forestry.
- Related postgraduate education (a Ph.D is a plus).
- Previous work experience related to forest mechanization, logistics and forest harvesting.
- Working knowledge of Catalan or Spanish is a plus.
- Availability to travel.
- Driving licence.

Duty station: Solsona, Catalonia

Working day: 37.5 hours per week

Gross remuneration: 1,977.3 euro per month with possible incentives for achieving specific objectives.

Duration: Two years, with possibility of extension. Immediately entry.

How to apply: Candidates are requested to forward a letter of motivation and their CV at biomassa@ctfc.cat indicating the reference mec/19.

PLA D'IGUALTAT D'OPORTUNITATS

El Centre de Ciència i Tecnologia Forestal de Catalunya ha elaborat un Pla d'Igualtat d'Oportunitats entre homes i dones, un dels objectius del qual és garantir les mateixes condicions d'accés i permanència als llocs de treball per a totes les persones que treballen a l'entitat, independentment del sexe.